

Supplementary, non-discriminating: this experiment does not separate cuTARs from size-matched controls.
Binomial thinning largely preserves depth ordering, so any depth-tracking partition looks stable here.